Game will feature the STEM Magician and other educational elements

SALT LAKE CITY (January 19, 2018) – The Salt Lake City Stars today announced that the team will play the South Bay Lakers at Vivint Smart Home Arena on Friday, Feb. 2. The theme will be Education Night, presented by Med One Group and Siegfried & Jensen.

Doors will open at 6 p.m. with tipoff at 7 p.m. Tickets start at $5 and are available online at www.slstars.com or at the Vivint Smart Home Arena box office. Parking will be free at the Park Place lot.

As part of the team’s Education Night, the Stars have partnered with STEM Action Center Utah to provide fun and educational opportunities throughout the game. Local educational partners will feature interactive activities along the arena concourse, the STEM Magician will perform at halftime, while other in-game initiatives will focus on how science, technology, engineering and math relate to basketball and sports.

Other game night elements will include T-shirt, color changing pencils and sticker giveaways, as well as complimentary pop-a-shot games, face painters and balloon artists and appearances by the Utah Jazz Dancers and Buster the Bear.

“The Stars’ Education Night at Vivint Smart Home Arena promises to be a fun night out for Utah families,” said Stars president Jonathan Rinehart. “The opportunity to tie in educational elements into a Stars game in the newly remodeled Jazz arena should make for a very special evening.”

At the conclusion of the game, select Stars players will participate in a postgame autograph session on the court, and kids in attendance will also be allowed to come down to the floor to shoot a free throw.

This will mark the Stars’ second time to play at the home arena of the Jazz.
