

Jazz Issue Fraud Alert for 2018 NBA Playoff Tickets

Fans advised to purchase tickets from official outlets only

SALT LAKE CITY (April 9, 2018) – The Utah Jazz have issued a single-game ticket fraud alert for all home games to the First Round of the 2018 Utah Jazz Playoffs presented by Zions Bank. Fans are being warned of purchasing fraudulent tickets from unofficial resale sites and reminded that only tickets purchased from official outlets guarantee entry to Vivint Smart Home Arena.

Fans seeking to attend the First Round of the NBA Playoffs are encouraged to purchase tickets online at utahjazz.com, the Utah Jazz mobile app, ticketmaster.com or at Vivint Smart Home Arena's box office.

Ticketmaster is the official ticket resale partner for Utah Jazz tickets, providing fans with a safe and secure marketplace to buy, sell and transfer verified tickets. Tickets purchased from any other source may not be valid. The Jazz are not able to honor, replace or refund invalid tickets.

The final Western Conference seeding and opponent are still to be determined. A full playoff schedule with dates and times will be announced at a later date.

About the Utah Jazz

Founded as the 18th member of the National Basketball Association (NBA) in 1974, and located in Salt Lake City since 1979, the Utah Jazz are committed to excellence as a team and in the community. On the court, the Jazz are the third-winningest team in the NBA over the last 30 years, having won nine division titles and two Western Conference championships along with 15 seasons of 50-plus wins, and are supported by one of the most passionate fan bases in all of sports. Away from the court, the Jazz are very active in the local community and have assisted a multitude of organizations and worthy causes by way of charitable donations, service and grants through Larry H. Miller Charities. The Utah Jazz also operate the Junior Jazz program, the largest and longest-running youth basketball league in the NBA, featuring more than 50,000 players and an additional 13,000 volunteers who take part annually across seven states.
